Activity to try at home

Learning how to recognize and create a pattern is an important preschool milestone. Help your child develop this skill by pointing out patterns that you see. An example, your daughter's tights are striped red and blue, ask your preschooler questions about the pattern. Have fun pointing out different patterns together. Challenge your preschooler to find patterns when you are out and about.

Here are a few reminders that you might find helpful.

- Please put your child's name in their jacket or sweatshirts.
- Kiddos need to use the restroom and wash hands before coming to class.
- If your daughter likes to wear dresses and skirts, please have her wear leggings or shorts underneath.
- If your child brings a lunch to Little Lambs please include a drink. We have some thirsty kiddos. We do serve water at snack.

September is flying by and we are having so much fun! We've gone on a scavenger hunt to learn where things are in the classroom, we've painted, we LOVED recess, and we've had some tasty snacks.

October will be a busy month as well, chocked full of fun activities for the whole family. Make sure to check your child's calendar and your Remind app so your child doesn't miss any of the fun!
